

Holy Island Photographic Workshops - with Landscape photographer Emma Rothera

All workshops are available to book all year round and are running daily

Location: The Holy Island of Lindisfarne

Course Tutor: Landscape Photographer Emma Rothera

Level: Beginners/Intermediate

Beginners Getting to grips with a DSLR camera and tripod - 1 hour 30 minute session

For those who wish to get to grips with handling a camera and using a tripod includes an introduction to photography basics with tea and coffee upon arrival. This is not a practical landscape session, this session is more theory based for those of you are unsure of your camera and need help with photography basics. We will also spend some time during this session getting used to the camera & tripod. This is a good individual session but I am also happy to run this session during the same day prior to one of the practical landscape workshops so you can then utilize and build upon what you have learnt during this session out in the field.

Location: Holy Island

Landscape Golden Hour/Sunset Photographic Workshop - 2 hour session

A practical session based in the landscape during the golden hour through to sunset learning how to get the best out of composition and light and utilizing different camera settings to achieve this.

Location: St Cuthbert's Island View/Priory View/Harbour Vista/Pilgrims way - Holy Island

Creative seascape photographic workshop - 2 hour session

A chance to learn a little more about photographing seascape images and how to successfully incorporate composition and light into your own seascape image. This class will entail working with the use of a tripod during sunset and dusk using different camera settings to photograph seascapes in a creative way. Timings will be given when you book a specific date, the time of the workshop will depend on the time of year.

Location: Jenny bells beach seascape & harbour rocks vista, Holy Island

Pilgrims Way photographic workshop - 2 hour session

A chance to photograph the historic Holy Island Pilgrims way and intertidal mud flats running parallel to the Holy Island Causeway. This workshop is designed to run during the golden hour through to sunset allowing us to concentrate on composing some interesting vantage points using sky, sea light and land to create some wonderful imagery of this unique landscape vista.
